Selection Process

So, what is the selection process of the courses?

Apply & Register: Submit your application for NPAT and choose your preferred NMIMS colleges for the BBA program.

Take the NPAT Test: Ace the computer-based NPAT exam with sections on math, reading comprehension, and logical reasoning.

Results & Merit List: NMIMS announces the NPAT scores and prepares a merit list based on your score.

College Allotment: Based on your merit rank and college preferences, NMIMS assigns you a seat at an NMIMS college offering BBA.

Counselling (Optional): You might be invited to a counselling session to confirm your acceptance of the offered seat and finalize your admission.

Stage	Description
Application and NPAT Exam	Register online, submit documents, choose programs/campuses, pay fees, take computer-based NPAT test.
Shortlisting Based on Cutoffs	NMIMS evaluates exam performance, releases cutoffs (overall & possibly sectional). Only those above the cutoffs proceed.
Selection of Campuses and Programs	Shortlisted candidates choose preferred campuses and programs during a designated window. Choices may be prioritized based on NPAT score and seat availability.
Interview	Applicable for some programs only. Shortlisted candidates attend interviews to assess soft skills, communication, and program motivation.
Final Merit List and Offer of Admission	NMIMS prepares a final merit list per program/campus based on NPAT score (and interview score if applicable). Top ranked candidates receive admission offers.
