Get to know XAT

Hey! Everyone....Welcome to CATKing Family.

I am here to guide you about XAT. So, what exactly is XAT?

XAT is a national-level management entrance examination conducted by XLRI, Jamshedpur for admission to MBA/PGDM programmes. Apart from XLRI and 10 other XAMI member colleges, over 200 B-schools accept XAT scores for admission to their post-graduate management programmes. The XAT question paper consists of 95 Multiple Choice Questions (MCQs) from Decision Making, Verbal & Logical Ability, Quantitative Ability & Data Interpretation and General Knowledge.

XAT 2027 – 3rd Jan 2027

Now, Lets see the Exam Pattern of XAT

Section	Subjects	Questions	Time Taken	Negative Marking
Part 1	Verbal Ability & Logical Ability	26	170 mins	Yes +1 -0.25 -0.1*(for more than 8 unattempted questions)
	Decision Making & Analytical Reasoning	21
	Quantitative Ability & Data Interpretation	28
	Total	75
Part 2	Mock Keyboard Testing	-	5 mins	No
Part 3	General Awareness	20	10 mins
	Total	95	180 mins

*Negative marking for unattempted questions is like -

- (0-8) unattempted questions - no marks deducted
- >8 unattempted questions - $(0.1 * \text{no of questions})$ marks are deducted
- for eg :- if 7 unattempted - 0 marks deducted
 - if 8 unattempted - 0 marks deducted
 - if 10 unattempted - $0.1 * (10-8) = 0.2$ marks deducted
 - if 12 unattempted - $0.1 * (12-8) = 0.4$ marks deducted

So, what is the eligibility criteria for XAT?

Candidates must have completed graduation or can be in the final year of the graduation.

Ohh! There are some important highlights of XAT. Let's see what they are

- Scores of General Knowledge section are not considered for calculating XAT percentile
- Analytical Essay Writing (AEW) has been removed from the XAT exam. It will be administered separately during the GD/PI shortlisting rounds.

I got introduced to CATKing from the YouTube Channel when I was researching various examinations for MBA, and later joined in their course. I got a lot of help from it especially the mocks. My weak point was time management and working on mocks really helped me get better at managing time, which allowed me to take my time solve the Quant section increasing my accuracy a lot. Thanks to CATKing their course helped me with improving rapidly.

The material CATKing provides is more than enough as far as most of the Management Exams are concerned esp. CAT. Mocks (Full length & Sectional) are at par with real CAT exams and analysis dashboard gives you in depth and easily inferable insights about your performance. The last and the most important factor – persistence is key to cracking Management exams, and an average human needs motivation in one form or another. CATKing has it all!

XAT 2022 – 2026 score vs percentile analysis

%ile	2026	2025	2024	2023	2022
99	46	38.7	38-40+	46.5	37
97	45	34.7	36	41	32.8
95	40	32	35+	39	29-30

80	30	25	25	29-31	22.5
70	24	20	20	27	19.75

Now Let's have a look on XAT Preparation Strategy

Phase 1 (Till 25 Dec):-

For Quants and DI:-

1. Geometry – Full formula based, therefore make notes of it
2. Focus on Data Sufficiency, watch Dashboard videos for conceptual clarity
3. Prepare basics of trigonometry
4. Practice Bar, Line, and Pie graphs questions

For Decision Making

1. It is kind of combination of Critical Reasoning and Verbal Ability
2. Practice different types of questions based on Ethical Dilemma, Strategic Decision, Business Decision, Behavioural/Personal, Plan of Action/Course of Action, and Quant/LR based Decision making questions.

Verbal Ability

1. For Reading Comprehension, practice Direct and Inference Type Questions
2. For Poems, don't go for literal meaning
3. Focus on Critical Reasoning, Vocabulary, and Grammar

Sumit sir

Mocks Strategy

1. Target 17-18 correct questions both in QA DI or Verbal sections, and 12 questions each in other 2 sections
2. Daily 1 hour Decision Making practice
3. Practice from PYQs
4. Everyday read Aeon Essays at least for 30 mins
5. Prepare all the conceptual questions
6. Prepare Critical Reasoning from GMAT official Guide
7. Target Score to crack XAT is given below:-

Section	Cutoff	Target Score 1	Target Score 2
Verbal & Logical Reasoning	8-9	16	12
Decision Making	7-7.5	12	12
Quantitative, Data Interpretation & Data Sufficiency	8-10	12	16

XAT Sample Questions with Solutions

QADI

Q1. Rajnish bought an item at 25% discount on the printed price. He sold it at 10% discount on the printed price. What is his profit in percentage?

- 1.10
- 2.15
- 3.17.5
- 4.20
5. None of the above

A1. Let's assume that the printed price is ₹ 100.

Cost Price = 25% discount on the printed price = ₹ 75.

Selling Price = 10% discount on the printed price = ₹ 90.

Profit = SP - CP = ₹ 90 - ₹ 75 = ₹ 15

Profit % = $15/75 \times 100 = 20\%$

Q1. Ramesh bought a mobile from a local store. He paid 1/6 of the price via UPI and 1/3 of the price via cash. He agreed to pay the balance amount a year later. While paying back the balance amount, Ramesh paid 10% interest on the balance amount. If the interest paid was Rs. 6000, what was the original price of the mobile?

- 1)120000
- 2)110000
- 3)150000
- 4)90000
- 5)80000

A1.

Let us take total price as $6x$.

Therefore money paid through UPI = x Cash = $2x$

Remaining amount to be paid = $3x$ Interest = $0.3x$

Interest Paid = 6000 = $0.3x$

$x = 20000$

Total Amount = $6x = 120000$

The correct answer is 1.

Thank you so much CATKing for all your help. I was able to crack XAT and convert XLRI, I prepared for XAT for 25 days, gave the mock tests, did the lectures and it helped a ton, I wasn't sure if I would be able to get into XLRI but because of CATKing I was able to do so! Thanks!

Q3. There are 25 rooms in a hotel. Each room can accommodate at the most three people. For each room, the single occupancy charge is Rs. 2000 per day, the double occupancy charge is Rs. 3000 per day, and the triple occupancy charge is Rs. 3500 per day. If there are 55 people staying in the hotel today, what is the maximum possible revenue from room occupancy charges today.

1. 72500
2. 82500
3. 77500
4. 92500
5. 87500

A3. The person revenue from each room is 2000, 1500 & 1166.67 respectively. Maximum revenue is from single occupancy room, so need to maximise it. Let X, Y & Z be the number of single, double & triple occupancy rooms respectively.

$$X + Y + Z = 25$$

$$\text{The number of occupants} = X + 2Y + 3Z = 55$$

If $Z=0$, $X+Y=25$ & $X+2Y=55$, on solving this $Y=30$ - This is not possible.

If $Z=1$, $X+Y=24$ & $X+2Y=52$, on solving this $Y=28$ - This is not possible.

If $Z=2$, $X+Y=23$ & $X+2Y=49$, on solving this $Y=26$ - This is not possible.

If $Z=3$, $X+Y=22$ & $X+2Y=46$, on solving this $Y=24$ - This is not possible.

If $Z=4$, $X+Y=21$ & $X+2Y=43$, on solving this $Y=22$ - This is not possible.

If $Z=5$, $X+Y=20$ & $X+2Y=40$, on solving this $Y=20$ - This is not possible.

Hence, to maximize the revenue, we have to use 20 room of double occupancy and 5 rooms of triple occupancy. Hence, the total revenue will be $20 \times 3,000 + 5 \times 3,500 = 77,500$

Q1. Carefully read the following statements :

- A. There are less cars on the road today.
- B. She is nicer than her sister.
- C. I have been here from Monday.
- D. I know how to swim.
- E. She is the girl that won the case competition.
- F. The media are divided on the issue.

Which of the following options contains only grammatically CORRECT sentences?

- 1) D, E & F
- 2) A, D & F
- 3) B, C & E
- 4) B, D & F
- 5) A, D & E

A1.

A: The sentence should be: There are "fewer" cars on the road; hence this is incorrect.

C: The sentence should be: I have been here "since" Monday; hence this statement is incorrect.

E: Although this format is also acceptable in common language, the grammatically correct version would be: She is the girl "who" won the case competition.

Sentences B, D, and F are grammatically correct. Therefore, Option 4 would be the correct answer.

Q2. Read the following excerpt carefully.

When each _____ generation grows up, it looks down on the next as if we all forget what it feels like to be _____. When most _____ think about their own youthful indiscretions, they do so with a wink and a laugh. But when the same people think about those in today's generation doing something similar, they _____ sound the alarm about a decline in morality in next generation. From the options below, choose the one that meaningfully fills up the blanks.

- 1) young, young, seniors, carefully
- 2) old, older, youngsters, sincerely
- 3) succeeding, next, people, naturally
- 4) preceding, succeeding, folks, cautiously
- 5) successive, young, adults, hypocritically

A2. The word "young" appropriately completes the second blank because the sentence reflects how older generations perceive those who are younger. In the fourth blank, "hypocritically" effectively conveys the irony of older generations criticizing the younger for actions they once did themselves. For the first blank, "successive" is the right choice, as it accurately refers to generations that come one after another.

Therefore the answer is option 5.

Q3. Which of the following sentences have INCORRECT usage of preposition?

1. The manager was sitting at the desk.
2. My work is superior to yours.
3. I prefer coffee than tea.
4. She was accused for stealing gold.
5. This is an exception to the rule.
6. They are leaving to England soon.

1. 1,3,6
2. 2,3,4
3. 3,4,6
4. 1,2,3
5. 3,4,5

A3. Sentences 3, 4, and 6 contain errors. The correct sentences are 'I prefer coffee to tea', 'She was accused of stealing gold', and 'They are leaving for England soon'.

I joined CATKing & I must say the books provided are concise and diverse enough to prepare you for the examination and the mocks have the most varied difficulty level of any offering (I tried most of them). On top of all of this i got the daily live classes and recorded lectures on all the topics asked in the exam for a self paced learning experience, at this point looking back at it I couldn't have had better mentors and material to prepare with. Now that I have converted XLRI Jamshedpur campus I am confident enough in saying CATKing played a pivotal role in my journey. Hope this helps aspirants and I am available to engage on this page if anyone wants to discuss anything. All the best!!

After graduating from NIT Rourkela, I started working with IT Consulting firm, and since my job role is consultant decided to pursue MBA. Saw few videos on YouTube of Rahul Sir and took Mocks of CATKing. The dashboard of CATKing is amazing and helped a lot in my XAT preparation. Additionally, content on Decision Making which is a new section in XAT was very well curated and guiding, helping me ace that section with ease. I would like to Thank whole CATKing team for the course and special thanks to Rahul Sir for his motivating daily live session on YouTube, helping me achieve 99.3998%ile in XAT.

All the Best!!!
